

SHOE DISINFECTING SYSTEM

GUIDELINES FOR USE

- Recommended volume – ½ gallon
- For effective use, the fluid level should not exceed ½ gallon or be below 5/8" from the top of the tray
- Chemical used should be a non-sudsing, quaternary solution, this should be FDA approved or approved by the governing body for your type of facility. If there is no governing body, use what is recommended by your janitorial supply company
- For best results, always abide by the kill time recommended by the chemical provider
- The Walk-Off Mat is to remove excess fluid after standing in the tray. If not used, it could create a slip hazard and ruin the floor finish in the area of the tray.

Vertical Layout

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

- Find a suitable location adjacent to your regular traffic flow to set up the system
- Decide if a horizontal or vertical layout is better for your application and place the runner mat
- Place the tray at the appropriate location adjacent to the runner
- Place "mat insert" into the tray and slowly pour the ½ gallon of quaternary solution into the center of the mat. The solution should already be diluted per chemical guidelines.
  - DO NOT USE CHLORINE BLEACH
- Allow the insert mat to wick up the fluid slowly. The fluid level will rise just above the mat; fluid level should be maintained 5/8" from the top of the tray
- For effective use, the user should carefully step into the tray. Please note, the tray is 1" high and could pose a tripping hazard
- Adhere to the suggested time from the chemical manufacturer for immersion into the fluid to properly kill any viruses or bacteria.
- Carefully step out of the tray stepping onto the walk-off mat, being mindful that soles of shoes are wet and could be slick.
- Shuffle feet across the mat to ensure they are dry before stepping onto the next surface
- Users should be mindful of any wet surfaces around the mat from previous users

Horizontal Layout

Disinfecting Tray

Insert Mat

3'x5' Step-Off Runner

Making your world a cleaner, better-smelling place.

WizKidProducts.com

2515 Antioch Rd, Dalton, GA 30721 | 954-323-2485